ICN Centralized Filtering System Basics:

READ UP FIRST!
Please visit http://filtering.illinois.net first to get acquainted with the filtering concept. Once you have an understanding of how the system functions, and it's capabilities, start setting up your zone.

Turn on Filtering…
 Log in to http://n2h2.illinois.net and select Assign Filters (   )
When the Assign Filters screen comes up, you will notice that there is an ICN Test Site Global Filter. This filter (you can view it by clicking 'view filter') only screens blocked.Illinois.net for testing purposes.

To begin filtering for your range, simply click 'Add'.

Global filtering

Your superadministrator applied ICN Test Site (Global) as the global filter for your network.

This filter applies to the entire network as the minimum level of filtering.

IP address filtering

Assign filters to computers on your network using their IP addresses. You can assign filters to IP ranges and individual IP addresses.

Administrator: Local\RTC7-ADMIN

Add

Once you've clicked 'Add', you'll be presented with the Filter Assignment Screen.
This is where you specify which IP addresses you actually wish to filter and how. (For instance, you may want to apply Maximum filtering to student labs, while applying standard filters to the faculty.)

Enter the Start Range, End Range and a Description. Be sure it is something that will be descriptive to others, and one that you'll recognize later.

Now, select the type of filtering you wish to apply to this range. The three main types are Minimum, Standard and Maximum, each of which are shown below. Once you've selected the filtering type, click save.

(See Next Page for Preset Filter Categories)

Specify the IP address range you want to assign a filter to. To specify a single IP address, type that address in the From box.

Administrator: Local\RTC7-ADMIN

Zone: 206.166.34.0 - 206.166.34.255
                209.175.160.0 - 209.175.175.255
